

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: January 10, 2018

Crystal Stein
Communications Specialist
Woods Hole Group
cstein@woodsholegroup.com

INTRODUCING THE NEW WOODS HOLE GROUP

FALMOUTH, MA – Representatives from CLS America, Inc., Horizon Marine, Inc. and The Woods Hole Group Inc. announced the merging of the three companies effective January 1, 2018 resulting in the new company retaining the name The Woods Hole Group, Inc.

CLS America is a leading force in satellite technology while Horizon Marine's expertise lies in offshore oceanography for the energy industry. The merger with Woods Hole Group provides services including: environmental assessment, fisheries and wildlife satellite tracking, ocean current forecasting, coastal engineering, ocean monitoring systems, habitat restoration and climate change planning projects.

Through its renowned expertise spanning over 30 years of operating satellite systems, CLS America contributes to global efforts in protecting the environment and enhancing security through direct operational support to government, institutions and industries in the environmental field.

Current Woods Hole Group CFO Chris Adomanis commented, "This merger brings together three companies, each with over 30 years of experience, each pioneers in providing cutting edge scientific data vital to our clients that impact the Earth's environment."

Horizon Marine's traditional services support the offshore energy industry with the most reliable data-driven metocean forecasting service available. "Vertical integration provides access to new technologies to enhance our EddyWatch, SurveyWatch and RouteWatch client deliverables," said Horizon's Matt Cadwallader, who will now serve a company-wide Business Development role.

Traditional Woods Hole Group services related to Applied Ecology, Coastal Sciences and Engineering, and Ocean Measurement Systems remain. The new Woods Hole Group integrates advanced scientific and satellite services for new opportunities in innovation and leadership in the global marine environment.

Woods Hole Group President & CEO Bob Hamilton stated, "We are focused on a seamless transition for our employees, customers and teaming partners. Bringing these companies together allows us to provide a wider range of environmental services to government, fisheries, energy, industry, research and environmental markets."

###